Subject: Private and Confidential: Misconduct allegations

Dear Professor Graeber,

I regret to advise that misconduct allegations have come to my attention relating to you. The allegations are in relation to non-attendance of your teaching allocation for unit of study, BIO1171. Please find attached a letter which outlines in detail the allegations and also provides you with an opportunity to respond. Prior to taking any next steps, I would like to understand your perspectives on this concern directly from you. The letter specifies the date to respond.

Should you wish to discuss this matter, please contact my office to arrange a meeting by replying directly to this email.

I also note the confidentiality requirements for this process, which mean that the matter should only be discussed with your support person, representative or personal adviser. The University may take disciplinary action against you if you breach confidentiality.

Regards,
Annamarie.
